

Anderson Cotton Market.	March 28, 1931.
Strict low middling	84
Middling	84
Strict middling	84
Good middling	84
Strict good middling	84

Next Sunday is Easter.

The fruit crop in this section is safe so far.

According to the almanacs, Spring has arrived.

So far March has been very quiet—not much wind.

The young folks are already talking about the picnic.

Fertilizers are still moving out of town at a lively rate.

It is said wedding bells will soon ring again in the city.

Col. J. D. Maxwell will go to Florida in a few days to spend awhile.

To-morrow is Good Friday. Are you ready to plant your beans?

Mrs. J. W. Todd, of Seneca, has been visiting relatives in this city.

Now is the proper season to plant advancements for Spring.

Mr. R. C. Webb and wife returned home last Friday from their trip North.

Hom. J. S. Othman and his son, T. P. Othman, Esq., spent Tuesday night in the city.

Watch our advertising columns and you will know where to buy your Spring goods.

The doctors are still busy, though the season over the County has somewhat abated.

D. R. Maxwell & Son have 5,000 cabbage plants for sale, and one ear corn. Give them a call.

A citizen predicts that Anderson will double its population within the next two or three years.

The price of cotton does not vary much. Many of our farmers are yet holding a portion of their crop.

Mrs. Ralph W. Brown reached Anderson last Friday from Arkansas, and was given a cordial welcome by her friends.

Prof. H. H. Watkins, of Furman University, Greenville, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city visiting his brother.

Miss Stalls and Pearl Smith, two of Walhalla's most charming young ladies, spent last Saturday shopping in the city.

The State Sunday School Convention meets in Laurens next Tuesday. Anderson County ought to be represented there.

The City Council has purchased a large fire bell, which will be placed in a tower to be built on or near the Court House Square.

Mr. Howard Edwards, of Darlington, has been spending a few days in the city with the family of his uncle, Rev. J. S. Murray.

Mr. W. J. Roddey, of Rock Hill, general agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, spent a day or two in the city last week.

Wiggins is at it again. He says there will be a big snow storm this month (he doesn't say where) and a terrible earthquake in 1932.

As soon as the weather will permit move around and get your gardens started. A few early vegetables come in well about the 1st of May.

The Y. M. C. A. of the Patrick Military Institute will send two delegates to the State Convention, which meets in Charleston next month.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in the O. B. House next Sunday morning will be conducted by Lieut. R. A. Few. Subject: Obedience.

A very dangerous counterfeit of the half eagle or five dollar coin, has just been discovered. Its detection is a task of difficulty even to mint experts.

It does us good to go away from home and hear the many complimentary remarks made about our growing city and her many new enterprises.

Rev. C. G. Harmon will preach at St. Paul's Chapel on next Sunday morning at the usual hour, and at Ebenezer in the afternoon at half past three o'clock.

Mr. C. M. Guess, of this city, has gone to Fort Hill to work on the Clemson College buildings. He is a fine farmer, and his work always gives satisfaction.

The Enterprise is the name of the new paper which made its appearance at Lancaster, S. C., last week. It is neatly printed, and no doubt will meet with success.

Our young friend, W. M. Smith, of Piercetown, who has been attending lectures in the Medical College at Charleston for the past few months, has returned home.

On and after the 1st of April the Banks of the city will close their business at 2 p. m., until the fall session. Persons having business there should make a note of this.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. A. H. Osborne, who is prepared to build you a house or furnish you with lumber. If you expect to build give him a call.

The Juvenile Mission Society will have an Easter service in the Methodist Church next Sunday afternoon, at 5 o'clock. The public generally is invited to attend.

There will be a meeting of Clinkscale's Alliance at Mr. Bethel school house next Sunday evening at half past 8 o'clock. Members are requested to be prompt in attendance.

Every stranger who visits Anderson is impressed with the energy, zeal and push applied on every side to the city. We have the best town in the State, and we must keep it moving ahead.

The young ladies of the Presbyterian Church will have a Strawberry Festival and an exhibit for the benefit of the College Studio, in the College Chapel on next Friday evening. Patronize them, as the object is a worthy one.

Since last Saturday we have had some charming weather, but at this writing the sun is out and the indications are again in sight, and the indications are that we will have more rain.

The Intelligencer job office keeps on hand a full supply of land deeds, mortgages, leases, contracts and other blanks of any kind you need any of the sort, send us your orders. Prices low.

The Anderson job doesn't say any more "I'm stuck on him," but she says, "His personal manager is a man who hears, though not as a rule susceptible, yields to his gentle persuasion."

Mrs. Margaret Harris & Co. have opened a restaurant next door to the Ladies Store, on Benson street. When you visit the city and want something to eat, give Mrs. Harris a call and you will get it.

The first auction sale of lots at Calhoun Falls will take place on Friday, April 24th. Read the advertisement in another column. Be sure to attend the sale. Excursion rates on the railroad.

Mr. Whit. Robinson, a Conductor on the F. R. & W. C. R. R., between Greenville and Laurens, and who recently had the misfortune to break his collar bone, is spending a few days in the city.

The road machine recently purchased by the City Council is doing some good work on the streets. It takes four mules to pull the machine, and Policemen know how to handle the reins.

Meers, Orr & Sloan will have in a fine lot of early corn, both white and yellow in a few days, and if you want to be sure of a crop plant a few acres of it. It will mature before the droughts commence.

Mr. J. T. C. Jones, Secretary, requests you to announce that there will be a meeting of the Star Alliance on Friday night, the 27th inst. All of the members are urged to be there promptly at 7 o'clock.

Mr. H. K. Sullivan, of this city has accepted a position with a large manufacturing company in St. Louis, and will leave the next three months in the Northwest selling machinery to dealers. Mr. Sullivan is an energetic salesman, and the company has done well to secure his services.

We are authorized to say that an opportunity will be given for additional applications to the stock of the new Bank being organized in our city as soon as a meeting can be had and formal authority given for it.

The Georgia, Carolina & Northern Road finished the bridge across the Savannah last week, and track laying was commenced on the Georgia side. They expect to complete the road to Elberton by the middle of April.

Mr. J. J. Major, of the Neal's Creek section, who has had an attack of the grip followed by the measles, is able to go out again. He was in the city Monday, and his appearance indicates that he had a severe attack.

Mr. J. M. Smith has been awarded the contract for the building of Mr. U. E. Seale's dwelling house, on North Main street. The house will be an attractive and commodious one, and an ornament to that section of the city.

A Georgia exchange tells of a man who had a clock which he wound up every night for thirteen years before he discovered that it was an eight day clock. The man who boasted that he had never read a newspaper in his life.

An exchange says a raw onion rubbed on a bald head will soon induce a beautiful growth of hair. In a case of this kind it is well to work, but what a married man wants to know is, how to keep his scalp lock until old age calls for it.

Hartwell Sun. "Our neighboring city Anderson is to have a hosiery factory. With a capital stock of $10,000. Anderson is wide awake and is putting herself in position to appreciate the advantages accruing from diversified industries."

Walhalla Courier. "Mrs. J. E. Bruns, of Anderson, was visiting her mother in Walhalla last week. We were glad to notice that time is passing gently with her. She has many friends in her childhood home who are always glad to greet her."

Note carefully what Messrs. Peoples & Burris have to say in their new advertisement in another column. They quote prices on a number of leading articles in stock, and it will pay you to go and see them when you need anything in their line.

The public schools of District No. 17 (Hall Township) will close on Friday, 27th inst. The Trustees will meet on Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. at the Central Institute, and the teachers are urged to send in their reports and claims at that time.

Miss Eva Allison, of Piedmont, has been spending a few days in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. W. J. Wilson, and soliciting subscriptions for the building of a new Baptist Church at Piedmont. We are glad to learn that she received a nice sum.

Our clever friends, Messrs. J. M. Webb and C. S. Hall, of Brushy Creek, came in to see us Monday. They say the farmers in their section, like everywhere else, are behind, but they have not given up hope. They also report the measles raging in their section.

Considerable complaint is being made by some of our subscribers that their paper does not reach them. The papers are sent by express, and they are guaranteed, and if it does not reach them the fault is with the postmaster or some one concerned with the mail service.

The Due West correspondent of the Abbeville Press and Banner says: "Mr. J. T. Pearson spent Saturday and Sunday last week at home. Anderson has a just right to be proud of him. He is from West originally, and was well known as a young man here."

Hayward Walker, a young negro, died of consumption in the city last Thursday. He was a member of the South and Ready Fire Company, and on Friday his remains were interred by the Company in the new colored cemetery, being the first interment in the cemetery.

Miss Minnie Virtue, of Baltimore, Md., who has been engaged by Messrs. C. F. Jones & Co., to take charge of their millinery department, arrived in the city last Friday. She is not only an expert milliner, but a most charming young lady, and we hope her stay in Anderson will be most delightful.

As is other places, the business of Anderson has been interrupted by the protracted spell of wet weather, but she continues to hold her own, and our merchants are preparing for an extensive Spring and Summer business. Reader, when you want anything come to Anderson and consult our business men.

Rev. T. P. Bell, Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, with headquarters at Richmond, Va., has been spending a few days in the city, and he is a fine man, and the pulpit of the Baptist Church, Mr. Bell was formerly pastor of the Baptist Church, and his numerous friends here were glad to greet him.

The freshets of last week did little damage to the bridges in the County. The bridge at Jackson's mill, over Rocky Creek, is badly wrecked, but people are still crossing it; also the bridge at Millford's pond, well known as Tucker's bridge, was damaged to some extent, but has been repaired at a very small expense. All other bridges are safe.

There will be a public installation of the officers of Piercetown Division, Sons of Temperance, at the Beaverton Church next Saturday evening, 28th inst. Rev. D. I. Spearman, Messrs. C. O. Langston and L. R. Hall have been invited to deliver addresses during the evening. The public generally is invited to attend. The installation ceremonies will begin promptly at 7 o'clock.

Any person who furnishes reliable information to a newspaper is looked upon as a valuable friend to the editor. Many persons hesitate about sending a postcard or other information to a newspaper regarding the movement of themselves or their friends, lest the editor should think them anxious to see their names in print. He will think nothing of the kind; he is glad to get such notes. Send a few and see.

While on our way to Abbeville last week we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. H. Emerson, formerly of this County. Mr. Emerson is one of the leading merchants of the town, was burned out a few months ago, but he has rebuilt and is getting on his feet again. The Intelligencer hopes he will never be so unfortunate as to be visited by such a disaster.

The lady teachers of the Williamson Female College will have a musical concert and an exhibit, for the benefit of the College Studio, in the College Chapel on next Friday evening. Patronize them, as the object is a worthy one.

Since last Saturday we have had some charming weather, but at this writing the sun is out and the indications are again in sight, and the indications are that we will have more rain.

The Intelligencer job office keeps on hand a full supply of land deeds, mortgages, leases, contracts and other blanks of any kind you need any of the sort, send us your orders. Prices low.

The Anderson job doesn't say any more "I'm stuck on him," but she says, "His personal manager is a man who hears, though not as a rule susceptible, yields to his gentle persuasion."

Mrs. Margaret Harris & Co. have opened a restaurant next door to the Ladies Store, on Benson street. When you visit the city and want something to eat, give Mrs. Harris a call and you will get it.

The first auction sale of lots at Calhoun Falls will take place on Friday, April 24th. Read the advertisement in another column. Be sure to attend the sale. Excursion rates on the railroad.

Mr. Whit. Robinson, a Conductor on the F. R. & W. C. R. R., between Greenville and Laurens, and who recently had the misfortune to break his collar bone, is spending a few days in the city.

The road machine recently purchased by the City Council is doing some good work on the streets. It takes four mules to pull the machine, and Policemen know how to handle the reins.

Meers, Orr & Sloan will have in a fine lot of early corn, both white and yellow in a few days, and if you want to be sure of a crop plant a few acres of it. It will mature before the droughts commence.

Mr. J. T. C. Jones, Secretary, requests you to announce that there will be a meeting of the Star Alliance on Friday night, the 27th inst. All of the members are urged to be there promptly at 7 o'clock.

Mr. H. K. Sullivan, of this city has accepted a position with a large manufacturing company in St. Louis, and will leave the next three months in the Northwest selling machinery to dealers. Mr. Sullivan is an energetic salesman, and the company has done well to secure his services.

Mr. J. H. Clarke has a word to say to the readers of the Intelligencer, in which we invite your attention. Spring is here, and of course every young man wants a large supply of the best, and Mr. Clarke is prepared to supply this want, and will guarantee satisfaction to every customer. Mr. Clarke's business is gradually increasing every year, and he now gets a great many orders from neighboring towns. He is endeavoring to build up a large retail establishment in Anderson, and deserves your patronage.

In a circular to the subordinate lodges of the Knights of Honor in South Carolina, the Grand Director, Maj. F. K. McCall, of this city, notes the fact that South Carolina occupies the second place of honor in the Supreme International Council. We are proud of this, and we are endeavoring to increase the numerical strength of the order in this State. He advises that we should be content with being second, but strive to be first, and to go to work in earnest to that end of the city.

Capt. G. R. Stewart, Conductor of the freight train on the S. V. R. R., came here being killed last Tuesday night at McCormick by a young negro named Charlie Green, formerly of this city. Green was ordered to get out of the train, which was being shifted. When he got off he picked up a rock and, throwing it at Capt. Stewart, struck him in the head and killed him. Green was then run off but was pursued and captured, and came here being severely dealt with. Captain Stewart is regretted for some time, but he received prompt medical attention, and will soon recover from the wound.

We would call special attention to the advertisement of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, of New York, which appears in another column. This Company, while not the oldest one, is, as its statement shows, the largest and strongest insurance company in the world. We are informed by Mr. B. Frank Mauldin, their agent at this place, that this Company was the first in this country to adopt the "long-time plan" of insurance, the benefits and advantages of which are attested by its unparalleled success. Those who contemplate taking out life insurance might find it greatly to their advantage to call on Mr. Mauldin and examine into the merits of this Company before insuring.

The Walhalla Courier, of last week, says: "Mr. Berry Poore died at his home, near Walhalla, last Saturday, from pneumonia. He had been sick about two weeks, but was thought to be improving, until a day or so before his death. He moved to this place from near Bolton, S. C., two years ago and had become one of Oconee's most respected and substantial citizens. He was drawn as a juror at the last term of Court, and it is said that while doing duty in this capacity he caught the cold which induced his fatal sickness. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his death. After appropriate funeral services, conducted by Dr. J. O. Lindsey, at the Baptist Church, last Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock, his body was interred in the Baptist cemetery."

A citizen of Piedmont tells the Greenville Enterprise and Mountaineer the following good one on Mr. Ambrose L. Cobb, postmaster at that place: "A group of men were talking about the great strides that have been made in the last forty or fifty years in labor-saving machinery. One old man said he could remember when wheat was cut with a reaper-hook and threshed out with a flail; now they had threshing machines that cut the heads, threshed the grain and stacked the straw. Another man remarked that he had seen a machine that threshed the wheat, stacked the straw and also the grain. Mr. Cobb now took the floor and said he had seen a machine that threshed the wheat, stacked the straw, ground the wheat into flour and turned out 'good shortbread' loaves. Mr. Cobb was told to go 'head'."

Miss Lizzie Williams, the popular proprietress of the Ladies Store, has returned from the markets, and her Spring and Summer goods are coming in by every train. She has purchased one of the largest and prettiest stocks of goods she has ever shown in Anderson, and it will do our fair readers good to go and look at them. We have had the pleasure of looking at some of them, and to describe the many beautiful hats, dresses, trimmings, etc., would take a big portion of this column. Miss Williams is long experienced in the business, and her buyers just what will suit our trade, and at very low prices. She and her assistants consider it no trouble to show goods and quote prices, and will give satisfaction to every purchaser. Miss Williams and Miss Watson are never in charge of the millinery department, and the ladies are cordially invited to call and see the new styles and the latest fashions. Read our advertisement and be sure to give the Ladies Store a call early and often.

Our Bolton correspondent mentions a most terrible accident which happened to the son of Mr. W. A. Geer at the Oil Mill in Bolton last Friday night. The little fellow had gone to the mill to see his uncle, Mr. E. P. Brazzelle, who perpetrates the night force of hands. Shortly after entering the building something got wrong with the machinery, and the little fellow tried to stop it. He stepped on the band and his right leg was caught and his body whirled around until the limb was torn loose at the hip joint and he dropped to the floor. His arms were broken, his skull crushed and his body terribly cut in several places. He was carried home, and strange to say, lived until 4 o'clock Saturday morning, though he never regained consciousness. The attending physicians say it was one of the most horrible accidents that has ever happened in this section. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

The Columbia State, of the 10th inst., says: "A prominent Columbia man, who has watched with interest the success of the city's rising young men, yesterday gave some interesting facts about a self-made man—Capt. Henry Williams, the popular and reliable master of transportation of the Richmond and Danville system. Capt. Williams began work, when a mere lad, with the old Greenville & Columbia railroad, in 1873, as an ordinary car couple, and afterwards put on the road, and in 1877 was promoted to be a Conductor, in which capacity he acted until fifteen months ago. At that time he was promoted to be a Master of Cars, and he has since been successfully acting in that position. He is a man of great energy and has been successful in his career. He is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Richmond and Danville system. He is a man of great energy and has been successful in his career. He is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Richmond and Danville system."

Last Sunday night the services in the Baptist Church were in memory of Rev. James C. Furman, D. D., recently deceased. Rev. T. P. Bell, of Beaverton, Va., presided over the meeting, and read as a lesson the last chapter of Deuteronomy. He said that while Dr. Furman, like Moses, had not been permitted to possess and enjoy the reality of his hope, still he was allowed to live until he could see the assured fact that he would see Furman University established and established. Addresses were made by Col. J. B. Patrick, of the Military Institute, Hon. E. B. Murray, and Prof. H. H. Watkins, of Furman University. All of them paid glowing tributes to the life and work of Dr. Furman. The statement was repeated by Col. Patrick that "one such life as that lived by Dr. Furman is a rare and precious thing."

Mr. Murray said, among other things, if it was true, as he was satisfied by one writer, that the good man did was buried with him, what a grave would Dr. Furman be. How much it would contain! But it is not true. Dr. Furman is not dead. He lies in the grave, but his life is still with us to inspire us to a nobler and better life. He was a great and good man. Dr. Watkins said it is impossible to describe Dr. Furman. Like some beautiful flower to know what he was you must have seen and heard him. The service was intensely interesting. The music was very good and appropriate. A very large audience was present from all the denominations. This was a proper tribute of respect to the memory of a great man.

Business called us to Abbeville C. H. last Friday, and we went down and spent the day there. To say we enjoyed the trip would be feebly expressing it. On reaching the town about the first person we met was Editor Wilson of the Intelligencer journal, the Press and Banner, who at once took us in charge and made us his guests. During our stay in the city, the evening happened to be the time for the regular monthly meeting of the Abbeville Literary Society, which is one of the oldest in the State. After a pleasant chat and a hearty supper, Editor Wilson invited us to accompany him to the meeting, which invitation we gladly accepted. The Society met at the hospitable home of our friend, Mr. Amos Morse, a son of Rev. A. Morse, who, at one time, was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Anderson. At the meeting we met several old friends and acquaintances, and soon felt at home. Our young friend, Dr. Frank E. Harrison, a native of Anderson, is now serving the Society as its President. The Society is composed only of the male sex, and its meetings are held at the homes of the members. At each meeting a subject is chosen for discussion at the next, and one member appointed to write an essay on the same. The subject for this meeting was "Literature," and W. W. Lee, Esq., the essayist. Mr. Lee handled the subject in a most scholarly and interesting manner, and while he had finished it was taken up and ably discussed by several of the members. Then came the refreshments, which were very agreeably served. The evening was very enjoyable, and we regretted when the hour for adjournment came. We are under many obligations to Editor Wilson for his kindness and courtesies during our stay.

Standing Committee. The city officers are frequently asked who compose the various standing committees of the City Council. Below we publish the Committees in full: Street Committee—D. F. Moss, A. C. Strickland and R. H. Vanover. Fire Department—A. G. Means, J. R. Vandiver and P. K. McCully. Finance—J. R. Vandiver, A. C. Strickland and B. F. Moss. Sanitary—A. C. Strickland, C. O. Langston and A. G. Means. Ordinance—R. Vandiver, C. O. Langston and A. G. Means. Water Works and Electric Lights—P. K. McCully, A. G. Means and B. F. Moss. The Honorable Alderman on each Committee is Chairman of the same.

Cut this out, and when you have any business with any of the departments you will know who to consult.

Andersonville Items. The farmers are still very much behind them their corn. Very little guano has been put in up to date. They say they were never so far behind.

Hon. E. P. Earle visited his sister, at this place, last Sunday. Mr. J. R. Caldwell now rings his plantation bell, which is a very convenient to his neighbors, also. "Rob" is one of our most worthy young farmers, and we wish for him great success through life.

Messrs. J. H. Price & Sons are doing a prosperous business at their saw mill. He had been sick about two weeks, but was thought to be improving, until a day or so before his death. He moved to this place from near Bolton, S. C., two years ago and had become one of Oconee's most respected and substantial citizens. He was drawn as a juror at the last term of Court, and it is said that while doing duty in this capacity he caught the cold which induced his fatal sickness. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his death. After appropriate funeral services, conducted by Dr. J. O. Lindsey, at the Baptist Church, last Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock, his body was interred in the Baptist cemetery."

A citizen of Piedmont tells the Greenville Enterprise and Mountaineer the following good one on Mr. Ambrose L. Cobb, postmaster at that place: "A group of men were talking about the great strides that have been made in the last forty or fifty years in labor-saving machinery. One old man said he could remember when wheat was cut with a reaper-hook and threshed out with a flail; now they had threshing machines that cut the heads, threshed the grain and stacked the straw. Another man remarked that he had seen a machine that threshed the wheat, stacked the straw and also the grain. Mr. Cobb now took the floor and said he had seen a machine that threshed the wheat, stacked the straw, ground the wheat into flour and turned out 'good shortbread' loaves. Mr. Cobb was told to go 'head'."

Miss Lizzie Williams, the popular proprietress of the Ladies Store, has returned from the markets, and her Spring and Summer goods are coming in by every train. She has purchased one of the largest and prettiest stocks of goods she has ever shown in Anderson, and it will do our fair readers good to go and look at them. We have had the pleasure of looking at some of them, and to describe the many beautiful hats, dresses, trimmings, etc., would take a big portion of this column. Miss Williams is long experienced in the business, and her buyers just what will suit our trade, and at very low prices. She and her assistants consider it no trouble to show goods and quote prices, and will give satisfaction to every purchaser. Miss Williams and Miss Watson are never in charge of the millinery department, and the ladies are cordially invited to call and see the new styles and the latest fashions. Read our advertisement and be sure to give the Ladies Store a call early and often.

Our Bolton correspondent mentions a most terrible accident which happened to the son of Mr. W. A. Geer at the Oil Mill in Bolton last Friday night. The little fellow had gone to the mill to see his uncle, Mr. E. P. Brazzelle, who perpetrates the night force of hands. Shortly after entering the building something got wrong with the machinery, and the little fellow tried to stop it. He stepped on the band and his right leg was caught and his body whirled around until the limb was torn loose at the hip joint and he dropped to the floor. His arms were broken, his skull crushed and his body terribly cut in several places. He was carried home, and strange to say, lived until 4 o'clock Saturday morning, though he never regained consciousness. The attending physicians say it was one of the most horrible accidents that has ever happened in this section. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

The Columbia State, of the 10th inst., says: "A prominent Columbia man, who has watched with interest the success of the city's rising young men, yesterday gave some interesting facts about a self-made man—Capt. Henry Williams, the popular and reliable master of transportation of the Richmond and Danville system. Capt. Williams began work, when a mere lad, with the old Greenville & Columbia railroad, in 1873, as an ordinary car couple, and afterwards put on the road, and in 1877 was promoted to be a Conductor, in which capacity he acted until fifteen months ago. At that time he was promoted to be a Master of Cars, and he has since been successfully acting in that position. He is a man of great energy and has been successful in his career. He is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Richmond and Danville system. He is a man of great energy and has been successful in his career. He is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Richmond and Danville system."

Last Sunday night the services in the Baptist Church were in memory of Rev. James C. Furman, D. D., recently deceased. Rev. T. P. Bell, of Beaverton, Va., presided over the meeting, and read as a lesson the last chapter of Deuteronomy. He said that while Dr. Furman, like Moses, had not been permitted to possess and enjoy the reality of his hope, still he was allowed to live until he could see the assured fact that he would see Furman University established and established. Addresses were made by Col. J. B. Patrick, of the Military Institute, Hon. E. B. Murray, and Prof. H. H. Watkins, of Furman University. All of them paid glowing tributes to the life and work of Dr. Furman. The statement was repeated by Col. Patrick that "one such life as that lived by Dr. Furman is a rare and precious thing."

Mr. Murray said, among other things, if it was true, as he was satisfied by one writer, that the good man did was buried with him, what a grave would Dr. Furman be. How much it would contain! But it is not true. Dr. Furman is not dead. He lies in the grave, but his life is still with us to inspire us to a nobler and better life. He was a great and good man. Dr. Watkins said it is impossible to describe Dr. Furman. Like some beautiful flower to know what he was you must have seen and heard him. The service was intensely interesting. The music was very good and appropriate. A very large audience was present from all the denominations. This was a proper tribute of respect to the memory of a great man.

Business called us to Abbeville C. H. last Friday, and we went down and spent the day there. To say we enjoyed the trip would be feebly expressing it. On reaching the town about the first person we met was Editor Wilson of the Intelligencer journal, the Press and Banner, who at once took us in charge and made us his guests. During our stay in the city, the evening happened to be the time for the regular monthly meeting of the Abbeville Literary Society, which is one of the oldest in the State. After a pleasant chat and a hearty supper, Editor Wilson invited us to accompany him to the meeting, which invitation we gladly accepted. The Society met at the hospitable home of our friend, Mr. Amos Morse, a son of Rev. A. Morse, who, at one time, was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Anderson. At the meeting we met several old friends and acquaintances, and soon felt at home. Our young friend, Dr. Frank E. Harrison, a native of Anderson, is now serving the Society as its President. The Society is composed only of the male sex, and its meetings are held at the homes of the members. At each meeting a subject is chosen for discussion at the next, and one member appointed to write an essay on the same. The subject for this meeting was "Literature," and W. W. Lee, Esq., the essayist. Mr. Lee handled the subject in a most scholarly and interesting manner, and while he had finished it was taken up and ably discussed by several of the members. Then came the refreshments, which were very agreeably served. The evening was very enjoyable, and we regretted when the hour for adjournment came. We are under many obligations to Editor Wilson for his kindness and courtesies during our stay.

Standing Committee. The city officers are frequently asked who compose the various standing committees of the City Council. Below we publish the Committees in full: Street Committee—D. F. Moss, A. C. Strickland and R. H. Vanover. Fire Department—A. G. Means, J. R. Vandiver and P. K. McCully. Finance—J. R. Vandiver, A. C. Strickland and B. F. Moss. Sanitary—A. C. Strickland, C. O. Langston and A. G. Means. Ordinance—R. Vandiver, C. O. Langston and A. G. Means. Water Works and Electric Lights—P. K. McCully, A. G. Means and B. F. Moss. The Honorable Alderman on each Committee is Chairman of the same.

Cut this out, and when you have any business with any of the departments you will know who to consult.

Andersonville Items. The farmers are still very much behind them their corn. Very little guano has been put in up to date. They say they were never so far behind.

Hon. E. P. Earle visited his sister, at this place, last Sunday. Mr. J. R. Caldwell now rings his plantation bell, which is a very convenient to his neighbors, also. "Rob" is one of our most worthy young farmers, and we wish for him great success through life.

Messrs. J. H. Price & Sons are doing a prosperous business at their saw mill. He had been sick about two weeks, but was thought to be improving, until a day or so before his death. He moved to this place from near Bolton, S. C., two years ago and had become one of Oconee's most respected and substantial citizens. He was drawn as a juror at the last term of Court, and it is said that while doing duty in this capacity he caught the cold which induced his fatal sickness. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his death. After appropriate funeral services, conducted by Dr. J. O. Lindsey, at the Baptist Church, last Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock, his body was